READING

Read the following story carefully, then answer the questions relating to the story.

Arjun wanted to learn sword fighting from the guru. The guru accepted Arjun into his home to begin the long process of learning to fight with a sword. At the beginning of Arjun's training, the guru explained that Arjun's first task was to clean the guru's house from top to bottom.

This puzzled Arjun. He didn't come to the guru to clean, he had come to learn to fight! Arjun grudgingly began the long task of cleaning the guru's huge house. The next day, the guru came up behind Arjun and hit him on the head. Arjun was furious! The guru said nothing. He motioned for Arjun to keep cleaning.

Another few days passed, and each day the guru sneaked behind Arjun and hit him in the back of the head. After a week of this, Arjun could hear the guru sneaking up behind him. Just as the guru raised his hand to strike him, Arjun turned around and grabbed the guru's hand. The guru smiled and said his first words in a week. "You have passed the first step. To be ready for sword fighting, you must first be aware of your surroundings."
